ROBBERIES IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

THE REMARKABLE CAREER OF A DOMESTIC WHO STOLE FROM HER EMPLOYERS

One of the most remarkable female robbers that has figured in the criminal courts of this city for many years says the N Y Herald was arraigned before Justice Bixby at Jefferson Market Police Court charged with stealing from several ladies, jewelry and wearing apparel estimated in the aggregate at about $20 000. Some months ago the following circular was sent by Inspector Byrnes of the Central Office, to the employment offices throughout the city

Wanted for a number of robberies a young German American girl. She hires from employment offices. age about eighteen or nineteen, height about five feet two inches, slim built, cast in one eye, sandy hair, long pale face wearing green plaid dress white apron black sacque and Derby hat. If any person of the above description should call, send information as soon as possible to Inspector Byrnes, Detective Office, No 300 Mulberry street

The young woman who was brought up in court answered this description exactly, with the exception that she wore a black cashmere dress and black straw hat. Her personal appearance was so correctly described that she could be recognized at a glance. No information, however, was received from the employment offices, and for the past seven months she managed to escape identification until she was taken into custody on Saturday afternoon. She gave her name as Sophia Clarke, but has several aliases

Her method of effecting the robberies with which she is charged was by seeking employment from respectable families. When engaged she went to work for a day or so until an opportunity presented itself of securing her mistress' jewels and wardrobe and then she suddenly disappeared. Sometimes she remained only a few hours in a house. The amount of property stolen by her from the ladies who were so unfortunate as to engage her varies from $600 to $1 500, and reports have been received at the Central Office from about twenty five families in different parts of the city who were robbed by her in this manner. In one instance it is stated that the shock received by one of her victims upon the discovery that all her jewelry and valuable wearing apparel was stolen had the effect of making her insane

Two of the ladies by whom she was employed appeared in court to make charges against her. Mrs Purdy, of No 428 Fourth avenue stated that on the 31 day of June last she took the prisoner who gave her name as Jennie Rigney, into her service to do general housework, and that on the following day she disappeared, taking with her clothing and jewelry worth $600. Among the stolen property was a black Spanish lace dress valued at $250 and a black silk dress worth $150. These belonged to Miss Lottie Kielie. A gold watch and chain, gold breastpins, rings and other articles were taken from Mrs. Purdy. On this occasion she left all her own clothing behind even her shoes, and left the house dressed from head to foot from the wardrobes of these ladies. Miss Kielie identified the black straw hat the prisoner wore when arrested as belonging to her

The detectives stated that this was one of the smallest robberies she committed of which they had information. Among her other victims were Mrs Moore No. 26 East Fourth street, from whom she stole, on the 22d of April last, $600 worth of jewelry and clothing, Mrs F H. Phiney No 1 337 Park avenue, jewelry and clothing worth $750, George Dougherty, No 1 632 First avenue jewelry and clothing worth $500, and Tony Pastor's sister, who resides in West Fifteenth street, whom she robbed in November 1881 of diamonds to the value of $1 000. Nearly twenty other respectable families have been victimized by her to a similar extent. A number of pawn tickets were found in her possession representing various articles on which she obtained money

APTLY MATED

Some two years ago she was married to a burglar named Clark, who served a term of three years in the State Prison, and by him she was doubtless induced to commit the robberies. It was the knowledge of this circumstance by the detectives that led to her arrest. A few months ago Clark was sent to the Presbyterian Hospital to receive treatment for an injury he met with and when he was discharged recently they watched him until they discovered that the prisoner was concealed at No 228 East 12th street. When taken into custody she admitted having lived in some of the places named, but on being asked if she had stolen the property referred to she told the detectives it was their business to find that out. In reply to Justice Bixby she stated that she was born in New Jersey, was twenty years of age, and that she did not work for a living. In answer to the question, "What is your business or profession?" she answered, "Nothing," and also stated that she was not guilty.

It is rather a singular coincidence that one of the aliases she used when seeking employment, "Jennie Rigney," should be the name of a notorious young woman who created a sensation some years ago by making an infamous charge against an eminent dentist in this city, and who attempted to bolster it up by falsely charging another reputable professional man with an equally grave offence. Both gentlemen were acquitted on trial and their perjured accuser was sentenced to five years in the State Prison.

William Clarke, the husband of the prisoner, appeared in court, there being no charge against him since he returned from Sing Sing. Mrs. Clarke was committed without bail. The police will produce additional evidence against her on the trial.

Friday, while Mr. J. A. Carr and Simeon Packard were repairing a chimney on the church at East Winthrop, several bricks were displaced from the top of the chimney, and falling some 37 feet struck the two men. Mr. Packard was hit on the face and, a very bad wound made which bled profusely. Mr. Carr was struck on the shoulders so solidly that his arm has been disabled since the accident.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Mr Munsey, a carpenter at work for the Umbagog Pulp Mill Co, had his foot badly injured, Monday, by an iron shaft falling on it.

The Journal says Lewiston narrowly escaped having a fire, Monday morning. The girls employed in N W Dutton's cloak shop, saw a smoke coming from a shed in the rear of the Mills store, occupied by Mr D. The blaze was extinguished by Mr Dutton before it became formidable. It was started by two boys about fourteen years old. They are known

Cumberland.

The Press says that in his sermon at Plymouth church, Portland, Sunday, Rev Dr Seward took up the matter of the church's floating debt, and stated that to make the finances snug and comfortable for the year $1 000 were needed. At the close of the sermon opportunity was given for subscriptions, and in a few minutes the Secretary announced that more than $1 000 had been pledged. A sociable will be held in the vestry Thursday evening at which plans will be suggested for the creation of a sinking fund for the payment of the permanent debt.

The marshal, deputies, night, and several of the day force, made a regular siege on Centre street, Portland, Saturday night and captured nine and one-half barrels of beer, and a lot of demijohns and bottles of liquor. A loaded team escaped

The Augusta Journal says Two years ago last September, 23 headstones, furnished by the government for soldiers graves in this vicinity which were without any designating mark, arrived at the M C freight station in this city. There owing to some mistake of the contractor, they have lain until within a month past. Recently Mr George Doughty superintendent of burying grounds, has been erecting these stones, each one of which is inscribed with the name regiment and rank of the sleeping hero for whose grave it is intended

Tuesday night some one broke into the Baptist church in West Gardiner and stole the communion service which has long been in possession of the church also the money in the Sunday School boxes. City Marshal True, of Gardiner went out there Saturday P M, but was unable to detect the thief. However, on searching the house of Mrs Gray of Monmouth, he found a variety of articles had evidently been confiscated by her, among them some clothing marked S. I. Walker

The Journal says that large quantities of produce are being shipped to the 'Hub' from Augusta. Among that forwarded Monday were 100 barrels of apples, 400 pounds of poultry, and a ton and a half of lamb consigned by C S Fuller, of Cross Hill, to a Providence firm. Five hundred pounds of cat tail flags were also shipped

Lincoln

The vestry of the new church in Dresden has been plastered and is otherwise in such an advanced state towards completion, that some hopes are indulged in that the service of dedicating it may be held Thanksgiving Day. About $1 300 have been expended up to date, and to complete all the contemplated work will require about $1 000

Thomas Morrill and Charles Grant, of Yarmouth are cutting ship timber in Albany. They have cut and loaded one floor of about fifty five tons, and contracted for another of about the same size. They purchased the hard wood on what was known as the Harris lot, in Bethel for the first floor. They cut some splendid pieces of keel. One rock maple roughed out a piece 50 feet long 15 inches at the top and 22 inches at the butt end. Mr Morrill has now purchased the Abbot lot, in Albany near A Sloan's of Charles Mason, on which to cut the other floor

All the contents of the barn, including a hundred bushels of corn, a large amount of apples potatoes and other products were destroyed. The fire caught in the end of the barn opposite the house which gave opportunity to save most of the furniture. David C Jewett was severely hurt by a falling chimney. THE RESULT OF THE ELECTIONS.

The returns from the November States not only confirm anticipations of the overturn in New York and Pennsylvania, but show that the effects of Republican apathy and disorganization have not been confined to those States. Of course Republican falling off and dissension means advantage to the Democrats, and the despatches report a general tendency to Democratic gains. Thus far the details are insufficient to furnish basis for calculating precise results, but the "hurrah" is obviously with our opponents over the November elections, and we must philosophically take the returns as they come in.

It is too soon also, to moralize over the causes that have produced this result, although some of them lie on the surface where he who runs may read. The tragic end of President Garfield's administration, the practical revolution of administration leadership that followed, the discussions, disaffections and disorganizing movements that find their opportunity in the relaxation of party allegiance,—all these and other causes combined to weaken the Republicans, while the Democrats were stimulated by the active zeal of the liquor interests all over the country, and by standing by their party reaped the advantage of Republican recklessness and folly.

In New York Democracy signalizes its return to power by the enthronement of Boss Kelly as the successor of Tweed, and the "Reform" spirit that actuates the victors is illustrated by the election to the Assembly of "Prince Harry" Genet, one of Tweed's notorious pals, who has but recently emerged from State Prison.

In Massachusetts the triumph of "Reform" is embodied in the election of Benj F. Butler to the Chief Magistracy of the Commonwealth, by the votes of men and the support of newspapers that for years have denounced him as the worst and wickedest man in American politics. If some of the superior people of that State thought they could start a great "Reform boom" that should embrace Leopold Morse but stop short of Ben Butler, they have by this time learned their mistake and lots of average citizens will calmly recognize something like retribution as they see the bete noir of Beacon Street waddle up to the State House on the shoulders of the independent gentry who joined hands with the Democrats to defeat two worthy Republican Congressmen. The thought will also force itself upon common folks down here, that some of those Boston newspapers which lavished so much gratuitous advice and instructions upon the Republicans of Maine, might have found a field for the whole of their wisdom at home.

But while the Democrats are cracking their throats and flying the flags that they were so loth to exhibit during the war, the thoughtful citizen can afford to remember that Democratic enthusiasm is apt to be confined to off years, and that their temporary successes have been the forerunners of substantial Republican victory. In 1874 the Democrats had a great revival and elected 169 Congressmen to 108 Republicans. But the Republicans carried the Presidential election two years later in spite of wholesale and monstrous murder, outrage and fraud. So in the "off year" 1878 the Democrats elected 147 Congressmen to 130 Republicans, and boasted over victories in many States, but two years later the sober, second thought dashed the Democratic hopes, and Garfield and Arthur were elected by a large majority, and the Republicans regained control of the House of Representatives.

There are some very timely observations in an anticipatory editorial that appeared in the New York Tribune on the morning of the election, from which we quote the following extracts

We wish to warn the Democracy not to be too jubilant if to-day's results shall seem to show a return of the popular confidence to their party. They will find this out very quickly, especially if they indulge in such visions of debauchery as some of them are already seeing in the near future "The whole political firmament," exclaimed the Hon. Henry Watterson, usually a calm and unpoetic observer, a few days ago, "is luminous with light and hope." * * * It is, in my belief, "God's sign that the days of famine are ended and that the ruddy dawn of the years of plenty which are in store for us is coming at last." That is the yearning of every true Democrat—to be fed after his long fast. He talks loudly about reforms and the necessity of "rescuing free institutions from the deadly peril of Republican rule," but all the time he is thinking of the "years of plenty" when he and his companions can eat and be filled. There is likely to be a great amount of this kind of talk to-night, and many a sanguine Democrat will "get full" in anticipation of the eating which he thinks will soon begin Republicans can view this significant jubilation with complacency. The Democrats are certain to betray themselves by their haste to reach the spoils. The Democracy is, as has so often been said, merely an aggravated appetite, an army without rations seeking sustenance from the public crib. The rush is sure to be so headlong as to alarm the people and bring them to the defence of their property. "The whole political firmament," as Mr. Watterson says, "may be luminous with light and hope," for the Democracy to-morrow, but it foretells a very brief period of sunshine for them.

The New York Times alleges of the city of New York that which is apparent in many other communities: that is, the lack of skilled workmen. Not only are the ordinary laborers but those of whom skilled, not to say artistic, work is demanded, in the great and growing majority of cases, foreign born. The American boy no longer learns a trade, even with the expectation of becoming a "boss" or contractor. He will not, nor do his parents desire him to, go through the discipline necessary to success. He expects to be a clerk, a book-keeper, a teacher, or to pursue some occupation not requiring manual labor. The supply is obviously greater than the demand. In the meantime that which in the ordinary conduct of life ought to be well done is poorly done; or, if well done, is purchased at an exorbitant price. Here and there a boy goes into a mill in order to work his way up to an intelligent superintendency, but as a rule, those who have no expectation of inheriting a fortune are aiming only at that which gives merely an uncertain livelihood without the slightest guarantee of an eventual independence.

They have so many varieties of liars in South Carolina that one class is styled "registered" liars. They are the correspondents of the Charleston News, according to an Independent paper.

CONSOLIDATING TELEPHONE INTERESTS.

The announcement is made that the Lowell Telephone Syndicate, which controls 17,000 telephones in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts (except the City of Boston and southern Massachusetts) and three counties in New York State, including Saratoga, has purchased the Long Island Telephone Company, capital $1,200,000, and including the City of Brooklyn, and the New Jersey Telephone Company, capital, $1,200,000. The latter includes virtually the entire State, excepting the cities of Newark and Camden. The right is given to purchase Newark, January 1, 1884, at the actual cost of the plant at that date.

The syndicate which acquires this property is composed of W. A. Ingham, C. J. Glidden and E. N. Downs, representing the Lowell interests, who take $250,000 of the stock; C. F. Cotter, and J. C. Clark, of South Framingham, formerly President and Manager of the Old Bay State Company; H. W. Hyde and C. A. Nichols, of Springfield, representing the western Massachusetts telephone interests; W. W. Crapo, of New Bedford, representing the Southern Massachusetts Telephone Company; ex-Governor Jewell, General Manager, H. P. Frost and Morris F. Tyler, representing the Connecticut Companies; Piper, Sawyer & Co, of Newburyport, and former owners of the Suburban Company, T. N. Vail and O. E. Madden, of the American Bell Company, of Boston.

It is proposed to take possession at once, and to organize the two companies as one, under a joint capital of $2,400,000. The programme, as now laid out, is to make C. F. Cotter, President, W. A. Ingham, Vice-President, J. C. Clark, Treasurer and General Manager, with C. W. Clifford and H. P. Frost members of the Executive Board. The property is so purchased that there remains in the treasury of the new company funds to the amount of $200,000 for construction purposes. Further than this, the Metropolitan Company of New York city and the American Bell Company will waive their right to a dividend on $800,000 of stock, which, for perpetual contract, they are entitled to hold. The contract gives the new owners exclusive right for the use of the telephone, the Bell and the Gold and Stock patents, for the entire territory described.

In addition to the brief report to the Secretary of War, Adjutant-General Drum has submitted to the General of the Army a detailed report showing the organization of the army; the distribution of troops in the divisions of the Atlantic, the Missouri and the Pacific, the military geographical divisions, departments and posts, with distribution of troops, post offices, telegraph stations, and nearest railroad stations or boat landings. Also statements of casualties, trials by courts-martial, and assignments of recruits and re-enlistments during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1882. There were 6,181 discharges, 223 deaths and 3,741 desertions, making the total loss to the army 10,145. There were 5,931 new recruits assigned and 1,420 reenlistments. The number of enlisted men now in the service who are drawing increased pay under the act of Congress of August 4, 1854, is 6,261. The number of those who will become entitled to increased pay under the act of Congress of May 15, 1872, during the fiscal year ending June 30, is 10,884, and the number of enlisted men now in service whose terms will expire during the same fiscal year is 3,549. A comparison with the figures submitted last year shows that while the number of men discharged the service by sentence of court-martial is less by 110 than during the years 1880-'81, the number of reenlistments has fallen off 544, and the number of desertions is 1,380 in excess. The total number of enlistments during the year was 7,734, of these 4,907 were native born and 2,827 of foreign birth. General Drum renews his recommendations, made in a former report, that 1,000 men in excess of the present strength of the army be allowed for thorough instruction at the recruiting depots, and that further provision be made for the instruction of men at the recruiting depots. General Drum makes many recommendations, and renews others previously made, for the improvement of the service.

The Legislature of New Zealand is about to try two very important experiments. One is a land bill providing that the colony shall not sell any more land, but shall give leases of twenty-one years, with provision for compensation if the lease is canceled at the end of that time. It is believed that this arrangement will be a great temptation to settlers, yet leave to the Government the ultimate control of the soil. The other scheme is one for compulsory insurance. It stipulates that every man must pay either £66 down before he is twenty-three, or 2s. a week for twelve years, in order to secure 15s. a week if single and 22s. 6d. a week if married, during sickness, and 10s. a week as superannuation allowance after sixty-five. It is believed that both measures will be enacted.

The widow of the late A. M. Soteldo, Jr., has sent a letter to District Attorney Corkhill, in which, having first assumed that he will dismiss the remaining charge of assault against Augustus C. Soteldo, she says: "The dying wish of my poor husband, that the person he and I at least believed slew him should not be prosecuted, is sacred to me, and I may add that, after my own terrible suffering, I have not the heart to bring upon his household any pain or anxiety, and my sincere prayer to heaven is that his family may never feel for one moment that dreadful anguish that I must bear with me even to the grave."

An engineer employed on some of the public works at Szegedin, Hungary, bought four cigars one day not long ago and began to smoke. He had finished one and laid another, half-smoked, upon his writing table when suddenly it exploded, throwing him from his chair and wounding his cheek, ears, lips and left hand. Investigation showed that the cigar had contained a glass tube filled with nitro-glycerine. The fact that tobacco is a monopoly, manufactured and sold only by dealers licensed by the Government, makes the mystery deeper. If the officer's cigar had been in his mouth when it exploded he would doubtless have been killed, a circumstance which does not add to the pleasure of smoking in Szegedin.

It would seem, according to a despatch from Columbia, that it is not yet safe for a black man to take an active interest in politics in South Carolina, provided the active interest is not in harmony with the views of his white Bourbon brethren. To read of shooting and killing resulting from no greater provocation than the circulation of anti-Bourbon tickets by colored voters, and to be informed that "the Democratic cavalry companies throughout the country are massing in force," is to recall the fine old days of the Ku-Klux.

The death is announced in New Orleans of Mr. J. Adrien De Leon, a representative of one of the oldest Creole families of that city. Years ago he was an officer in the United States Navy, and was married to the daughter of the Hon. R. J. Walker, President Polk's Secretary of the Treasury. She was afterwards divorced from him, and is now the wife of Attorney-General Brewster.

Capt. C. A. Boutelle, who has been doing excellent service on the stump in Ohio, New Hampshire and other States has been obliged to cancel engagements in Massachusetts on account of ill-health. The Captain's courage and enthusiasm exceed the strength of any ordinary man. We are glad to learn that a little rest is all he needs to bring him in good physical condition again.—Aroostook Republican.

New Orleans is about to erect a monument to Margaret Houghery, the deceased benefactress of the orphan asylum in that city, and an exchange says it will be the first city in the Union to thus honor a woman. There are monuments to Hannah Dustin at Haverill and Concord, N. H.

The Indian school at Carlisle, Penn., has three hundred and fifty pupils on its rolls. The experiment, last summer of sending the children out among the farmers of the neighborhood was so successful that the plan has been adopted, and about fifty of the Indian children now under the care of the institution will be placed with farmers during the winter and attend the public schools.

AN IMMENSE BLACK CAT—alogue of goods we keep might be printed, but after a careful perusal of Lord Bacon's essay on the art of advertising, and Locke on the understanding of the same subject, and Shakspeare on the necessity of ones blowing their horn if they would sell their ichthyological specimens, we have come to the conclusion that we have "caught on" to the right method, which, according to the authorities cited, is to refrain from enumerating each and every article in the stock, and more too, and ring the changes only on the specialties. Trusting that "the whirligig of time" will bring you all in to see our goods, we proceed to name a few of our specialties. First come the celebrated DONGOLA BOOT, which, in order to inculcate habits of truth in careless dealers, is stamped with its name inside, none genuine without. We are sole agents for them. Next on the list is the SHURTLEFF STANDARD GOODS for boys' and youths' school boots, warranted not to crack or soak water, and will wear two pairs of any other make. They are beautiful goods and closely resemble English work. Nextly, we have an English Grain Sporting Boot, (same make) for the Nimrods, that those sixteen men who have all got the best dog, etc., should look at. Moreover, we have beautiful Velvet Slippers for both sexes, etc., etc. E. J. DAVIS & CO., 19 West Market Square. Brohan's French Dressing to be had only of us. nov9

CONCORD, Nov 8 208 towns give Hale 36,5?0, Edgerly, 34,694; scattering 794. Thirty three towns to hear from gave a majority against Bell in 1880 of 450, which if returned in the same ratio will give Hale ... majority The Senate will be 17 to 7. There will be more than 60 Republican majority in the House of Representatives. The Council will be four Republicans and one Democrat Both members of Congress have been chosen by very large majorities.

NEBRASKA

Republican State Ticket Elected by 10 000

OMAHA, Nov. 8 Returns are scattering Douglass county goes Democratic by over 1,000 Lancaster county gives the Republican State ticket 1 000 majority, but defeats the suffrage amendment, which will fall 20 000 short of carrying Valentine's (Rep) election in the 3d district is almost certain. The Democratic Central Committee concede the election of the Republican State ticket by 10,000, but claim that Munger is elected to Congress in the 3d district over Valentine.

MINNESOTA.

Solid for the Republicans.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 8. Congressman Washburn estimates his majority at not less than 3000 in the 5th district. Nelson, Rep is unquestionably elected, making Minnesota solid for the Republicans by a somewhat reduced majority. It is estimated that three-fourths of the Republican members of the Legislature favor the re-election of Senator Windom.

Congressmen Elected

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov 8 The following is the Congressional delegation of Minnesota Second district, Wakefield, Rep; 3 Horace Strait, Rep, reelected; 4th, Washburn, Rep., reelected, 5th, Nelson, Rep The first district is in doubt. Milo White, Rep, claims 600 majority, while Beerman, Dem., claims his election by 2000

NEW YORK.

Cleveland's Majority Estimated at 174,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 The Times gives Cleveland's majority in the State at 174,500 New York and Kings counties give him a majority of 117,000. The State above the Harlem river, usually Republican makes up the rest. The Assembly will contain 80 Democrats and 48 Republicans a Democratic gain of 13 members. The New York delegation in the Forty-eighth Congress will consist of 19 Democrats and 15 Republicans, a Democratic gain of 6 The Democratic gains are in the 8 h, 20th, 23d, 29th, 30th and 31st districts and the Congressmen-at-Large. The Republicans have gained a member in the 33d district. The Citizens' ticket in the city of New York is defeated by about 20 000 majority. The Democrats have secured a considerable majority in Congress. Our returns give them 174 members against 150 Republicans. The amendment to the Constitution providing for the abolition of tolls upon canals of the State and making them free for ever has been carried by a handsome majority.

Comments of the Tribune.

NEW YORK Nov 8 The Tribune says of the election The people will not tolerate boss rules either in a President or his underlings, and they wish Mr Arthur to take notice of their displeasure. Well will it be for him if he have the wisdom to do it Is the party hopelessly injured by the process of disciplining its boss? We do not think so. Can it pull together again in time for 1884? We do not have a doubt of it The organization that is strong enough to venture on yesterday's work is strong enough and wise enough and united enough yet to rule the country. The chances for 1884 are better for the results of 1882.

Brooklyn Complete.

NEW YORK, Nov 8 Complete returns in Brooklyn show Cleveland's majority to be 39 794 All the Democratic city and county tickets were elected, except that for Register which Samuel Richards, Rep, carried by a majority of 1,440 over Carroll, Dem. The Reform candidates for city officers are all defeated. Of 12 Assemblymen elected from Brooklyn, nine are Democrats and three Republicans. Congressmen elected in Brooklyn are D. R. Jones, Rep., Wm. E Robinson and Felix Campbell, Dem.

Estimate on Legislature.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8 McCormick, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 14th district, concedes the re-election of Barr, Rep, by about 150 majority. Returns from the legislative districts are too meagre to form a correct estimate of the complexion of the next Legislature, but it is believed the Republicans will have 10 majority in the Senate and the Democrats a majority of three to five in the House, thus giving the Republicans a small majority on a joint ballot. The last Senate stood, Republicans 32, Democrats 18, House, Republicans, 123, Democrats 79 The Congressional delegation will stand 15 Republicans and 13 Democrats, including the Congressman-at Large.

The Republican State Committee do not express any hope for St John. The Republican County, State and Congressional ticket is elected with the usual majorities.

Democrats Claim the State by 2,500

DENVER Nov 7. The Democratic Central Committee claims the State by 2,500 to 3 000 majority, and the election of Wallace, Dem, to Congress by 1,000 The House is doubtful. Politicians say that the make-up of the new Legislature indicates the election of Tabor, Rep., to the U. S. Senate.

Democratic Governor and Republican Congressmen

DENVER Nov. 8. Latest returns indicate the election of Grant, Dem., for Governor, and Belford, Rep., for Congress.

MICHIGAN.

Union Congressman Elected.

JACKSON, Nov 5 Col Hedges, Union candidate for Congress, has 600 majority.

Gov Jerome Defeated, but the Rest of the Ticket Elected.

DETROIT, Nov. 8 Returns up to noon from this State, are meagre The Second District is claimed by the Democrats by 500, but is not conceded. The Fifth District is Democratic beyond a doubt. The remaining 8 districts are probably Republican, although two or three are close

There is no doubt Gov. Jerome is defeated, but the rest of the Republican State ticket is elected.

Republicans Lose the Governor and Elect Rest of State Ticket

DETROIT, Nov. 8. The Republicans lose the Governor by 8000 or 10,000 and carry the rest of the State ticket by an equal or larger majority. Pierce and Demott, Rep., in the 8th and 10th Districts, are also defeated This will give the Democrats nine and the Republicans four Congressmen. A Democratic gain of four. The Democrats also claim the election of English in the 7th district, but this is not conceded by the Republican Committee, who claim Peele's election by over 300.

ARKANSAS.

A Light Vote.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 8. A light vote was polled everywhere. In Congressmen the only officer elected to day, in the city, is Cunningham, Greenbacker, for Congressman-at-Large, for whom the Republicans also voted. He received 1155; Breckenridge, Dem., 802; Benjamin, Rep, for Congress from the 3d district, 1125, Rogers, Dem, 762. Pulaski county will probably give the Republicans 1200 to 1600 majority. The Republican State Committee is of the opinion that if the same proportionate decrease holds good throughout the district, Benjamin has a chance, but there is little doubt of Rogers' election by a good majority.

Scattering returns from the 2d district the only one hotly contested, show considerable falling off in the vote as compared with the September election, but indicate the re-election of Jones, Dem., by several hundred majority, though the Republicans claim it by a similar majority for Williams, who received a portion of the Greenback votes. Jefferson county is claimed for Williams by 3500 majority, but is reported by Democrats as giving him less than 2 000, a reduction which the Democrats claim cannot be overcome. Dunn in the 1st and Peel in the 4th districts, both Democrats, were practically without opposition. Breckenridge, Dem, Congressman-at-Large, is elected by a large majority.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 8. Rowell, Rep., is elected to Congress in the 14th District.

The Bribery Case—Payne Held to Await the Action of the Grand Jury

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. In the Police Court this forenoon Judge Snell delivered his opinion in the case of Arthur Payne, charged with attempting to corrupt Mr. Brown, a juror in the Star Route case. After defining the nature of the offense Judge Snell reviewed all of the circumstances brought out in the examination. Speaking of Brown's testimony, which has been so extensively impugned by the defense, he said that his testimony must stand because the defense had not called any one to contradict him. He commented sternly upon the failure to place Fall upon the stand, and concluded by committing Payne to await the action of the Grand Jury, his bond to remain at $2,800.

Fall's case was then called, but his counsel, Mr. Kiddie, explained that he had pressing business in another Court and a continuance was granted until to-morrow forenoon.

RAILROAD COLLISION.

A Special Train Runs into the Regular Passenger Train at Lincoln.

Passenger Cars Telescoped—Several Passengers Somewhat Injured—Supt. Tucker and Other Railroad Officials in the List of Wounded—Particulars of the Casualty.

An unfortunate accident occurred yesterday forenoon at Lincoln, on the E. & N. A. division of the Maine Central Railroad. The early reports which reached this city were meagre and conflicting. Many wild and exaggerated rumors were afloat, and much excitement existed.

A special train left the city yesterday morning about half an hour after the regular train. The special train conveyed a party of railroad men on a tour of inspection of the recently acquired European & North American Railway. The train consisted of two cars, the forward one containing Civil Engineer W. A. Allen, Bridge Builder Booker, Road Master Wagg and trainmen, and the rear car, which was the regular directors' car of the Eastern Railroad, contained the following Maine Central Railroad officials: President Geo. E. B Jackson, General Superintendent Payson Tucker, and Directors W. G. Davis, of Portland, W. P. Phillips, of Salem, Mass., and W. B. Bacon, of Boston. It was the intention of the party to go through to St. John.

The regular passenger train was delayed somewhat by passing the night train from St. John which was several hours behind time, owing to an engine breaking down on the St. John & Maine Railway. Just as the train arrived at the Lincoln station, the special was observed in the rear coming at a rapid rate, and there was only time to start the engine and get under slight headway, before a collision ensued, The scene which followed was exciting. The two rear cars of the regular train were telescoped and the occupants were extricated therefrom after some effort, many of them injured in a greater or less degree. The locomotive of the special was badly demolished. The two cars of the special remained on the track but the occupants were thoroughly shaken up and somewhat injured.

President Jackson escaped any harm. Supt. Tucker was standing up at the time of the accident and was thrown forward, striking against the door. He received a severe cut in the forehead, had two of his fingers put out of joint and suffered other injuries, the extent of which is uncertain but not thought to be serious. Messrs. Davis, Phillips and Bacon were considerably shaken up and bruised, the latter receiving a cut in the head. Mr. Allen also received something of a wound in the head, and nearly all who were on board the special train have slight mementos of the disagreeable adventure. The rear car of the regular train was a second-class car and was occupied principally by residents of the Provinces. Several of these persons were considerably injured, and passengers throughout the train were generally shaken up and bruised somewhat. One man had his leg broken in two places, another had an ankle dislocated, and others received cuts and bruises. The engineer and fireman on the locomotive of the special jumped from the train but were both injured, the former being now quite lame and the latter considerably bruised.

The injured were properly cared for and the track cleared away expeditiously. The two demolished cars were detached and the regular train proceeded on its journey after a delay of about half an hour. Supt. Tucker was removed to the hotel where it was found that his injuries were not as severe as had been feared. He thought best, however, to consult with his family physician and a telegraphic summons was sent to Dr. Pendleton, of Portland, to come by special train. The directors' car was uninjured and President Jackson and the directors returned to the city in it, arriving here shortly before two in the afternoon. The directors, after their arrival here, went to the Bangor House where they are now stopping. President Jackson was busily engaged during the afternoon attending to the business, incident to the accident.

About three o'clock in the afternoon a special train from Portland with Dr. Pendleton and Conductor Harry Tucker on board, passed through the city en route to Lincoln, which was reached about half-past four. Supt. Tucker was able to be around his room in the hotel during the afternoon and the physician decided he was able to be moved to his Portland home. At 11 o'clock last evening a special train passed through Bangor with Supt Tucker on board. The wound on his head was quite painful, but in other respects he was doing nicely and it is expected he will be confined to his home only a week or ten days. The five passengers most severely injured, and who stopped off at Lincoln during the day, continued the journey to their respective homes last night. They were all quite comfortable and doing well. The man who had fractured his limb was accompanied on his trip home by Dr. Wilson and a nurse. As three of the passengers who did not stop off at Lincoln but continued on the regular train needed surgical aid, Dr. Porter was procured at Danforth and went on the train as far as Vanceboro, ministering to their wants.

The explanation for the accident is difficult to give. It is probable that several things conspired to bring it about. If the regular train had not been behind time no casualty would have resulted. The delay in passing the St. John night train made the regular train from 20 minutes to 30 minutes late. Shortly before entering Lincoln the road passes through a deep cut and around a sharp curve. The engineer of the special supposed the regular train was 15 miles away, and when he discovered the train right ahead, was not able to stop his train much owing to the fact that the road at this point is a sharp down grade.

The regular train was in charge of Conductor Whitney and the special in charge of Conductor Pollister. Mr. Frank Lawton, the engineer of the special, has been employed on the B. & N. A. fourteen years and was considered the best engineer in their service. An investigation will be made and it will be ascertained where the blame really belongs. President Jackson expresses no opinion as to where the responsibility rests, but exonerates Train Despatcher Crane and the Conductors.

A double team from Veazie ran away on York street yesterday. The driver, named Clark, was dragged down York street hill and somewhat injured.

LATEST NOTES ABOUT THE FASHIONS.

[From the N. Y., Evening Post.]

Arabesques of Satouche are the leading jacket and wrap garnitures.

Fancy feathers of every description are the rage for millinery use.

Telegraph, hussar, electric, and royal are four very popular shades of the blue.

Royal cardinal jackets are very fashionably worn over black skirts of silk, satin, or cashmere.

Amazone cloths embroidered, or adorned with arabesques of Satouche, compose the favorite trimmings of autumn and promenade costumes.

Shaggy goods of all kinds in brown, fawn color, dark green, dark blue, or in plaids of heather-mixtures are the most fashionable of all utility fabrics.

The coming of the "Jersey Lily" has largely increased the sale in America of the Jersey bodice, whose popularity she long ago inaugurated in London.

For evening wear, tan-colored Suede shoes, trimmed with large satin bows and buckles of Rhine pebbles set with silver, are considered very chic; but unless the feet are very small, there are fears that this adornment will cause them to assume the appearance of "beetle-crushers."

Dorsay redingotes are imported, made of black Lyons velvet, and trimmed with a magnificent applique work of black embroidery and jet. They are fastened down the front from the throat to the bottom of the skirt with costly cordelleres and handsome cut jet buttons in medallion designs

The huge bridal bouquet of white roses is now frequently replaced by a large fan made of gardenias, white star flowers, and stephanotis. This fan depends from the right side by a gold or silver chatelaine, but is raised and carried in the hand in place of the bouquet as the bride enters church or parlor.

Worth is sending to America very elegant toilets of brocaded plush in silver gray, combining this fabric with the new Ottoman silks in royal blue, dark green, and ruby. These dresses are made short with artistic draperies of the Ottoman silk at the back, the plush forming the front of the skirt arranged in transverse folds, confined by clusters of loops of the silk fringed with floss-silk balls in shades of gray.

Among the jackets and coat-bodices of masculine cut are those of cheviot made with pointed fronts, large side pockets, and fastened across the front with brandebourgs, a la hussar. These jackets open over a vest of white or colored serge, and at the opening in the neck is set a tour de gore, or tucker of linen with large Byron collar above it, embroidered in each corner, underneath this turn-over collar is set a colored cravat exactly like those worn by gentlemen, and in the centre of it is set a scarf-pin in the shape of a horseshoe or some other fancy device.

Embroidery is still largely employed for dress trimming, being used in all manner of materials, from fine ladies' cloths to satins and gauzes. A very handsome Venetian design is used in floss silk for trimming cashmere dresses, the embroidery for the skirt front being twelve to fifteen inches deep. In white cashmere this trimming is particularly effective, and matinees and Grecian house robes made up with this elaborate garniture mingling with the creamy artistic folds, are the height of elegance. Made up, these imported robes are sold for $125 each, and in pattern boxes, ready for the hands of the modiste, they are rapidly sold for the sum of ninety dollars.

Pale pink and silver, and white and gold pekins, with alternating stripes of satin and moire, are very pretty and very fashionable combinations for young ladies' evening dresses. These fabrics are made up without the admixture of any other materia', they have short skirts, pleated paniers over the hips, and are very bouffant in the back—a Watteau effect being aimed at in the entire costume. Chine silks are also shown for young girls' wear, in scattered patterns of single flowers on white, pale blue, or cream-colored grounds, caught up with loops of black velvet ribbon over a short under dress of black velvet or plain tinted satin; a corsage and over-dress in the Louis XV. style above mentioned of these new silks are extremely picturesque and pretty.

A simple and pretty toilet worn by a young lady artist in this city, is as follows the black cashmere skirt has three flounces, each gauged at the top to about a third of its width and edged with Spanish lace very narrow, but the genuine article. The pointed panier bodice is of lozenge-brocaded satin. The paniers at each side are exceedingly full, commencing at the long point of the bodice, which laces down the front with a fine silk cord. The sleeves are put in exceedingly high and full, standing up in fact to a level considerably above the shoulders. These are long and close fitting, and over them when walking are drawn tan-colored Suede Saxe gloves, elbow length. The Sir Peter Lely hat is of black velvet, covered with drooping ostrich plumes, with crimson roses peeping out here and there all over the hat.

In fancy work are some new crewel designs that are more than usually effective, and novelty adds a charm that is peculiar ly its own. On tinted oat-meal cloth are fixed at equal distances five-inch blocks of colored sateen—pink, blue, yellow, or cream—only one color, however, being used for any single piece of work. These blocks are stamped with small birds with the gayest, brightest feathers, and in every conceivable attitude. Round the blocks there is either a tracery resembling fret work, and looking like a frame to the picture, or there is a design of foliage. The tracery is worked in outline in silk crewels of bright colors. Antimacassars have only one end decorated. Tea cloths are bordered all around. Splash-cloths for the back of washstands have the ornamental blocks of the printed sateen placed near the lower edge. Night-sachets, comb and brush cases, and doilies for toilet tables are all made after this same pattern, and are to be had ready for working at moderate prices.

A very artistic dinner dress, included in an elaborate trousseau to be sent to California from this city, is made of old-gold satin in broad stripes, with an alternate one of dark olive green, brocaded with tiny bouquets of crimson geranium blossoms and palest blue forget-me nots. The short skirt is kilted its whole length, the kilts being laid so as to bring the brocaded stripe on the upper side and the old-gold stripe beneath, allowing bright glimpses of the latter to peep out between the interstices. Around the foot of the skirt is set a full coquellee ruche, made of dark olive green, pale blue, old gold, and crimson silk bands, cut bias, fringed on each edge to the depth of two inches and then pleated up together, this feather-like trimming showing all the colors of which the dress is composed. The Camargo bodice of plain olive satin is cut square in the neck, with a gauged chemisette of the striped fabric, and turn-over cuffs at wrists of the same. The full paniers at the sides are also of the olive satin, showing a lining of old gold.

Among the innumerable plaided fabrics is shown satin merveilleux in brilliant colors on dark grounds, crossed by lines of bright gold. These satins are used invariably in combination with plain dark materials, either in silk, velvet, or wool, the bodice or over jacket being always of the monochrome fabric. Gay striped goods in satin merveilleux are also extremely fashionable, made up in combination with other materials. Watered silk is still much worn with plain satin or velvet, and forms a very lady-like and distingue costume—for instance, a plain underskirt of black watered silk is made up with a corsage and panier-tunic of black velvet, the velvet also forming the drapery in the back. Around the hem of the underskirt is set a pleated ruche of the velvet, lined with watered silk. The velvet corsage laces down the front over a gilet of watered silk, and the sleeves have narrow, pointed cuffs finished with bands of velvet. To make this dress a success, the fabrics composing should be of the richest quality.

The latest visiting dresses that have made their appearance are very simple and very handsome. A graceful paletot of plain velvet, lined with self-colored satin, is worn over a short skirt of watered silk, edged around the foot with a shell plaited ruche of satin. The bonnet is of French felt, lined with satin, and ornamented with large ostrich plumes. The mouchoir muff is of velvet, matching that forming the paletot, a bird of medium size, such as a young dove or small paroquet, being set at one side. Everything about this costume must match in hue precisely, except the gloves, which must be of tan-colored undressed kid. Such a costume, in dark myrtle green, or royal blue, is extremely elegant.

[From the Pittsfield, (Mass.) Eagle]

Stone in the Bladder is at once a most annoying and very dangerous ailment, but many most remarkable cures have of late been wrought by "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy"—the invention of Dr Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y. Another such cure is now added to the list. Mr Peter Lawler of Dalton Mass, states in a letter to Dr Kennedy that he had been troubled with bladder complaint for 14 years and had consulted at different times seven physicians, but nothing beyond temporary relief was obtained of the pain had been working for him. Towards the end of last January Mr Lawler called on Dr Kennedy, and he sound him, the doctor struck stone. He decided that Mr Lawler should first try the "Favorite Remedy" so as if possible to avoid an operation. And here is the remarkable result "Dear Doctor Kennedy—The day after I came home I passed two gravel stones, and am doing nicely now. If you would like to see the stones I will send them to you." This letter bears date (Dalton, Mass, Feb 5) and is signed "Peter Lawler" The stones which are so large as to warrant for "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" the claim that it is the most successful specific for stone yet discovered, are now in Dr. Kennedy's possession. Incidentally Mr Lawler also states that the "Favorite Remedy" at the same time cured him of a stubborn case of rheumatism, and it is a fact that in all affections arising out of disorders of the liver or urinary organs it is a searching remedy and works marvelous benefits. It is in itself almost a medicine chest. Order it of your druggist. Price $1 a bottle d&wlm oc26

Old fashionable remedies are rapidly giving ground before the advance of the conquering specific, and old fashioned ideas in regard to depletion as a means of cure, have been quite exploded by the success of the great renovant, which tones the system, tranquilizes the nerves, neutralizes malaria, depurates and enriches the blood, rouses the liver when dormant, and promotes a regular habit of body.

HEART DISEASE.

IS YOUR HEART SOUND?

Many people think their sufferings are due to kidney or liver troubles, or dyspepsia, while if the truth were known the real cause is the heart.

The renowned Dr. Clendinning startlingly says one third of my patients show signs of heart disease.

The heart weighs about nine ounces and yet man's twenty-eight pounds of blood pass through it once in a minute and a half resting not day or night. Surely this subject should have careful attention.

Dr. Graves, a celebrated physician, has prepared a specific for all heart troubles and kindred disorders. It is known as Dr Graves' Heart Regulator, and can be obtained at your druggists, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express. Send stamp for Dr Graves' thorough and exhaustive treatise.
